

Chengtu S. Y. Mar. 13, 1922.
Monday.

Dear Mother and Father:—

I have great news to tell. Mrs. Brown has a new-born baby, a girl. She has four girls now—Isobel, Julia, Swendolyn, and the new-comer. Mrs. Kithen also has a new-born girl. She has two now, Christene, and the baby. Charlie Kelly is back to school again with his head in bandages.

Good-bye for to-day.
Wednesday.

I was a little bit feverish yesterday and had to ~~stay~~ stay in bed so I could not <sup>write</sup> read. When I was in bed Miss Lamb gave me "Little Lord Fauntleroy." I will read "Jolly Good Times" next. It is in the library. Adair missed ~~his~~ his star to-day so he is only 16 ahead of me now. If I had not gone for my music lesson and so missed my star on Monday. <sup>2</sup> he would be only 6 ahead. Winnie is out of quaran-tine. We made a great fuss over her.

Her night gown was in the wash for both of them, so she wore Miss Wilson's last night. My practise-time is changed to 5.30-6.00 P.M. We started cancell-ation to-day. Miss Bruce did not teach it yesterday because I was not there.

We are reading "Anne of the Island"
now. Another of the "Anne" books.
Good-bye for to-day.

Friday:

I went to Junior League yesterday.
We had a responsive lesson. Winnie and Anna Soper sang "Father make us living" which was sung at the children's service. I have said a verse three <sup>times</sup> another time and I will have autumn.

We had a ~~Composition~~ <sup>Composition</sup> examination this afternoon. We had to correct this sentence -
 Between you and I he'll find he's made a big mistake. I put - He'll find he's ~~made~~ made a big mistake between you and I. Adair was sick to-day so I gained on him one star. He missed the examination this afternoon, too.

I can grover backwards with my feet hooked on the pole now. I can also go forwards and get right up without kicking or ~~to~~ unhooking my legs. This has been a good St. Patrick's Day. We drew sham rocks in school. I drew a harp on one petal of mine. Good-bye for to-day.

Sunday 4.

I went to the fair yesterday and bought five of those little baskets without lids and two with lids. Etheridge bought three baskets with lids too so we have five with lids and five without. There was a lady there called Miss Harris or Harrison. She bought me a bird that floss its tail and lower beak when you press a bamboo fixture. Miss Gormerly bought me a box for 200 cash. I bought a bell for 350 cash. Etheridge bought a big basket and a fish-rod that closes up into itself. We had dinner at the Fair. I didnt see the brass goat. I have my brown dress on. There is church to day. Etheridge <sup>bought</sup> some white mice. Lots of love for everybody from Catherine Cath Leonard
